Lloyd Ferguson announces bid to run in Ancaster

ANCASTER – Retired business leader Lloyd Ferguson has made it official – he’s going to enter municipal politics again in a bid to represent the citizens of Ancaster on the next Hamilton City Council.

A resident of Ancaster for 54 years, Mr. Ferguson has been a passionate supporter of the area through his involvement and commitment with a number of community organizations and industry groups.

For 10 years – 1984 to 1994 – Mr. Ferguson served as a Councillor on the then Ancaster Town Council. He also served as an elected trustee on the Wentworth County Board of Education from 1981 to 1984, and from 1985 to 1991 on the Board of the Hamilton Region Conservation Authority. From 2000 to 2004, he served on the Board of Directors of the Hamilton Utilities Corporation. Today, he represents the community by serving on the Board of Directors of the Hamilton Health Sciences Corporation.

“I care about the unique character of Ancaster and the issues of concern to residents living here and doing business in our community,” Mr. Ferguson says in his desire to return to public service.

A graduate of Mohawk College in the Industrial Management Program, as well as the McMaster University CIM Program, Mr. Ferguson recently retired as General Manager of Dufferin Construction after a 32-year career with the Company.

“I’m passionate about representing the interests of Ancaster and working to improve the economic and social sustainability of the City of Hamilton.”

Mr. Ferguson and his wife Martha have three grown daughters: Jennifer, Leigh and Erin.
